Mrs. Giles To Appear On Television Show

Three volunteers with a variety of ages and backgrounds share their common experience with Father Richard Armstrong and Jeanne Glynn of the Christophers on the weekly series, Sunday, Dec. 3 on Station WDSU, Channel 6 at 7:30 a.m.

National Volunteer of the Year, 70-year old Mrs. Arnette Giles and her grandson Arthur Clementin explain their work with retarded children and high school students. For over 30 years, Mrs. Giles of Pearlington, Mississippi, has taken care of homeless children. In later years she has been working with retarded youngsters. Mrs. Giles stresses the overall importance of love and individual attention and encourages viewers to open their hearts and minds to respond to the needs of such children.

Arthur Clementin teaches shop in Jackson, Michigan. Although he works in a completely different atmosphere from his grandmother, he finds that city children still have the same basic needs for love and individual attention. He encourages his students to become skilled craftsmen so that they can be proud of what they contribute to society.

Franz Dolderer, from West Germany, is now a teacher at Elon College Children's Home. He and John Goude, one of the children at the home, describe their life together.

NATIONAL VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR, 70-year old Mrs. Arnette Giles, discusses her work with retarded children with host Father Richard Armstrong on the weekly series "Christophers Closeup", Sunday, December 3 on Station WDSU - TV at 7:30 a. m.

Parents Urged To Attend Panel

How can a parent tell if his child is turning on to drugs? What are the dangers of the most commonly abused drugs, physically and psychologically? How can conviction of a narcotics arrest charge affect a person's future?

These questions and others, relevant to the current narcotics use and abuse situation in Hancock, will be discussed in depth by members of a Drug Abuse Panel slated for December 12 in Bay St. Louis.

According to Ronald Peterson, drug panel coordinator, the program is open to the general public, free of charge. Although of interest to everyone, Peterson said the information on narcotics use will be especially geared to pre-adolescents from 10 to 13 years old as well as all parents of school age children.

To be held in the cafeteria of Our Lady of the Gulf School on South Second St., the program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Peterson, special investigator for the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, will moderate the program. Members of the panel, each experienced in his field, will discuss all aspects of drug abuse especially in regard to children and will answer questions from those in attendance.

Participating in the panel talks will be District Attorney Albert Necaise, Bay St. Louis physician Dr. Sidney Chevis, Harrison County Special investigators Lonnie Shultz and Terry Schultz, Long Beach Assistant Police Chief James Hanley, and T.P. Naylor, State Highway Safety Patrol investigator.

The public service program is jointly sponsored by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Bay St. Louis police and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 3253.

Alabama Man Charged With Kidnapping Bay Girl

An Alabama man has been charged with kidnapping after he allegedly abducted a 16-year-old Bay St. Louis girl from her aunt's home on November 21.

Russell Lamar Davis, 19, was captured in Mobile around midnight November 21 following a hunt that involved the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, the Mobile Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Authorities reported that the young girl was approached in the driveway of her aunt's home by a man who asked her to call a taxi. When she refused to do so, he followed her into the house, took a knife from the kitchen and forced her to get the keys of her aunt's automobile.

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said the girl was bound and gagged and placed in the trunk of the car by the man who then drove to Mobile. According to the girl, he stopped in a wooded area in Alabama and raped her.

According to Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy James Ladner, the man had been involved in a two-car collision at the intersection of Highway 90 and Main St. Davis allegedly left the scene of the accident in order to call the police but fled on foot from the Bay St. Louis Shopping Center.

Ladner also said that the sheriff's office was called about 8 p.m. by the girl's parents to report that she was missing after she had been dropped off at her aunt's home.

Davis was arraigned before U.S. Magistrate Allan R. Cameron November 22. Hancock County authorities are filing kidnapping and automobile theft charges against Davis. Authorities also reported that federal kidnapping charges are being filed against Davis by the U.S. Attorney's office.

TAX BILLS

Beginning Dec. 1, the public must request their tax bills from the city of Bay St. Louis according to Andre Arceneaux, tax collector. The request must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

ACCORDING TO Mayor Warren Carver, this garbage truck is the one he wants to sell. In last week's Echo, a picture of another old garbage truck, located at Valena C. Jones was reported as the one Carver had in mind. However, this truck, located at the city equipment lot on Ulman Ave. will be sold to Jake Morreale for $50.

Bay St. Louis Group Working For Manager Election

Plans to petition the city officials of Bay St. Louis to call for a general election on a proposed council-manager form of government were formulated Monday night at a meeting at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce office.

Under the direction of E.J. Marengo, who was elected chairman of the Council-Manager Committee, workers will begin circulating petitions to ask for the election. Twenty percent of the qualified electors is needed before city officials can consider the proposition.

"Only seven cities in Mississippi, including Bay St. Louis, operate under the Mayor-Commission of government," Marengo explained during the meeting. "Running a city is now big business and possibly a professional can move our city forward."

Under council-manager government, a mayor and four councilmen are elected by the voters. These officials, in turn, hire a city manager to handle the affairs of the city.

"The mayor and councilmen are paid a nominal salary -- it is not a full-time job but they are the governing body," Marengo said. "They have the power to hire and fire the city manager," he added.

Emphasizing that the public would be well-informed before the election is held, Marengo said that the most important thing at this point is to get signatures on the petitions.

The next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 12 at the Chamber office at 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in working for the council-manager proposition is asked to call Marengo at 467-8351.

Two Arrested In Waveland For Narcotics Possession

Michael D. McGill, 22-year-old Waveland resident, was arrested Thursday night with a 17-year-old Sidel girl by Waveland police at McGill's home.

McGill and the girl were brought to county jail where they were charged with possession of marijuana. An additional charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor was brought against McGill. The juvenile girl was turned over to youth authorities for further action.

A hearing on the case will be held tonight in Waveland City Court.

In a similar but unrelated case, two other youths were arrested on narcotics violations Friday. They were charged with possession of marijuana. An additional charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor was brought against McGill. The juvenile girl was turned over to youth authorities for further action. A hearing on the case will be held tonight in Waveland City Court. In a similar but unrelated case, two other youths were

Power Company Will Appeal Rate Decision

Mississippi Power Company will file an appeal in the Chancery Court of Hinds County following the denial by the state Public Service Commission of its request for a 4.3 percent retail rate increase.

V.J. Daniel, Jr., company president, stated that the company was disappointed by the action of the Commission and that its need for the increase had been fully supported by testimony presented at the hearing. The new rates will remain in effect, under bond, as allowed by law, during appeal procedures.

"Mississippi Power Company has been particularly beset by inflationary forces over which we have no control. For example: our capital costs are up dramatically. Since 1962, interest rates on our bonds have gone from 4 1/2 percent to 7 1/2 percent, a 60 percent rise," Mr. Daniel said.

He further explained that recent environmental protection laws and regulations are having a direct economic impact on the company. New expensive pollution control facilities do not produce additional revenues for the company but result in greatly increased construction and operating costs.

Mr. Daniel pointed out that Mississippi Power Company is engaged in a three-year $140-million construction program to meet customer demands for service in the period ahead. Daniel noted that nationwide the annual kilowatt-hour consumption by utility customers doubles every 10 years but consumption in Mississippi Power Company's rapidly developing service area doubled in the last seven years.

"Mississippi Power Company feels that it takes all necessary steps to be financially able to meet the expenses of the company and to raise the capital necessary to supply the increased service requirements of a growing southeast Mississippi. Anything less would not be in the interest of the company, its stockholders, its customers, nor the State of Mississippi," Mr. Daniel concluded.

LIMITED TICKETS

Due to the space available in the St. Stanislaus gym, there will be a limited number of tickets sold for the St. Stanislaus - Bay High basketball game to be played at St. Stanislaus on Saturday, December 2, 1972. Tickets may be obtained at Bay High and St. Stanislaus on Thursday, November 30, and Friday, December 1. These tickets will be sold on a "First-come, first-served" basis.

The Junior varsity game will start at 7:00 P.M. and will be followed by the varsity game at 8:15 P.M. Persons wishing to attend the game are urged to buy their tickets early.

Did this week's editorial make you mad? (If you haven't read it, this column won't make any sense.) We certainly hope so. To paraphrase an earlier divine statement, "Let him who has never gripped throw the first stone."

We now have a small handful of about 10 pebbles. Also please note, neither of the writers of this column considers herself a member of the "silent" majority (or is it minority?) nor are we throwing stones. But we have done a lot of thinking and a tremendous amount of talking about the problem. Of progress, or the lack thereof.

When you get down to it—what's so wrong about promoting our talent for status quo?

What's so bad about status quo? Why is it a sin to still have clean air, grass and trees everywhere, great bodies of sparkling waters, large tracts of wooded areas and animals? And birds in great abundance. Anywhere in Hancock County as well as smack in the middle of the two main towns, you wake up in the morning to the sound of bird songs. That's pretty hard to find anymore.

Let us tell you about the big cities. They're monuments to progress and industrialization. Boy, do they have progress! They have so much progress it makes you sick—literally.

You don't admit sunsets in the big cities because you can't see the horizon for the concrete towers. In fact, you can't see much of anything because your eyes are burning and watering from the polluted air. You find yourself coughing a lot even if you don't smoke.

You don't take early morning walks, or at twilight for that matter, because you're likely to get attacked, robbed, raped or otherwise bothered.

On weekends, parents take their children to the park to show them real trees growing out of real ground instead of concrete, and to see a bunch of real live, tired, sickly caged animals.

Because of all the industrialization and progress, there are lots of jobs at which you can make lots of money which you need because it takes lots of money to survive in the city. As a matter of fact, surviving in a metropolis takes a lot out of you.

You go to bed exhausted and you wake up in the morning to the sound of wailing police and ambulance sirens, squealing brakes and lumbering trucks, streetcars and city buses. You do not wake up to the sound of birds. If there are any in the city, they're drowned out.

Big cities are full of people who love every minute of it and wouldn't think of leaving. They are also full of people who hate it and know there is something better.

We have something better here. Why don't we capitalize on it? Environmental research scientists are being sent here in greater and greater numbers because this is one of the few places in the country where there is any environment left to study.

So why can't we protect our clean air, grass and trees, waters, forests, animals and birds—and share them? Speaking strictly commercially, why can't we make the sharing pay? Jackson Ridge, as a well developed and carefully regulated outdoor recreation area, can be not only a joy to natives and tourists alike, but a tremendous source of revenue. The spin-off sources of income from such a park are unlimited.

With a little imagination, why can't we make the whole county one big park, that pays? Look what they did with Grand Canyon, a big old hole in the ground! Some guy with a wild imagination carved four mammoth heads in Mount Rushmore, and look what it did for that area!

Why don't we stop complaining and dream a little... and turn it into an advantage.

Arrests Attributed To TIP Program

Earl Riley, Executive Director of the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission, has announced that the TIP, Turn In A Pusher, Program, co-sponsored by the seven Coast Chambers of Commerce, has received 847 valid "tips" since the inception of the program on November 19, 1971.

According to Riley, there have been 131 arrests which may be attributable to these "tips", 17 arrests since October, 1972.

In addition to $925.00 paid out to date in reward money for "tips" resulting in conviction of Pushers, the evaluation and payment of other rewards are presently under consideration by the "Tip" Committee.

"The Tip Program", according to Riley, "has proved to be the true essence of citizen involvement. The widespread problem of drug abuse in the three coastal counties, which infiltrated all segments of our society, became the center of attention and action by not only the citizens, but by the various local law enforcement agencies with a decisive assist from the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics. We have reached the point where the courts are catching up with those 'Tips' reported earlier in the Tip Program, and we should be deeply gratified by the strict interpretation of the law by members of our Judiciary in meting out maximum sentences provided by law against Pushers. The Prosecuting Attorneys in these cases, too, have taken a firm stand in swift and resolute prosecution."

Riley concluded, "The teamwork demonstrated by our citizens, law enforcement officers, Prosecuting Attorneys, and our Judges is making the Mississippi Gulf Coast a 'no man's land' as far as Pushers are concerned, and it is anticipated that with this continuing type of cooperation we will see this problem greatly reduced in the near future."

In Jackson County the Tip Line is 875-3104, in Hancock County 467-3401, and in Harrison County 863-3401.

THANK YOU

I'm very happy with the vote we received on November 7th. When over 40% of the people voted for a challenger, it tells you there's a real desire to see Mississippi grow. We must continue to work to keep our young people home, to increase our wages, and to protect the beautiful piece of land we call Mississippi.

Thank you so much,

On A Diet? Don't Skip Breakfast.

If you are trying to shed those few extra pounds you picked up during the summer months, don't skip breakfast. Cut down on the total number of calories you have each day, but don't cut out breakfast. It has been about 12 hours since dinner and you need protein and carbohydrates at breakfast time to keep blood sugar at proper levels to avoid that mid-morning slump. Eating breakfast will also help keep you from getting hungry in the middle of the morning and indulging in snack foods which may be high in calories but low in important nutrients you need.

tendant. Her other attendants were Mrs. Charles Eugene Jenkins, Natchitoches, La.; Mrs. Andrew McDonald Hunter, Wayzata, Minn.; Miss Lynn Ward Pratt, Dallas, Texas, and Miss Laurie Ann Uram, sister of the groom.

Cave-Campion Exchange Vows

St. Clare Catholic Church in Waveland was the setting November 18, for the afternoon wedding of Miss Bridget Mary-Margaret Campion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Campion, Farrar Street, Waveland, and Roy Michael Cave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cave of Clermont Harbor.

Reverend Terrence W. Gress of Buffalo, New York, uncle of the bride, solemnized the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated on either side with gold and white baskets of white mums, and gladioli. The fathers of the bride and groom gave the readings from the Old and New Testament, with prayers by Reverend William Kennedy of Flushing, New York, former associate pastor at St. Clare Church.

Mrs. Mildred Means, organist, rendered a program of traditional nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional full-skirted gown of silk organza over tissue taffeta. Venise lace ringed a Victorian neckline, hem and the wide cuffs of full bishop sleeves. Blossoms of embroidered Venise lace centered with pearls defined the sheer yoke of the fitted bodice. Her full-length mantilla flowed from a caplet edged in pearls and lace into three tiers, each tier edged in the Venise lace. She carried a Victorian bouquet of white miniature roses, stephanotis and baby's breath accented with ivy.

Miss Mary Faith Campion, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a jewel blue long velvet gown with Victorian neckline and empire bodice trimmed in white cotton lace, long sleeves ending in points at the wrist. On her hair she wore a wreath of white feathered carnations and baby's breath, tied with blue ribbon streamers and carried a bouquet of matching flowers in white.

Chris Cave of Laurel, brother of the groom, served as best man, and the ushers were Rick Justice of Clarksdale and Cliff Krider of Hattiesburg.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom presented their mothers with a single white rose. The reception was held at the home of the bride. The rooms were decorated with arrangements of all white flowers, gladioli, carnations and baby's breath. The bride's table was covered with a white linen heirloom cloth and centered with a three-tiered cake, trimmed in white roses and topped with a gold Christogram. Miss Theresa Anne Campion, sister of the bride, kept the guest register.

Mrs. Campion wore a blue knit dress and coat ensemble and a white cymbidium corsage. The mother of the groom chose a green knit with black accessories and wore a yellow cymbidium corsage.

For travelling the bride wore a printed green jersey dress with empire bodice and long sleeves, and a stephanotis corsage. After a Florida honeymoon, the couple will be at home at 203-16th Avenue, Hattiesburg.

Miss Penrose Weds Gary Thorstenson

First Baptist Church, Waveland, was the setting Saturday, November 25, for the morning wedding of Miss Dawn Adele Penrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norvin Harris Penrose of Waveland, Miss., and Conway B. Thorstenson of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Rev. Wylie Heath, pastor, performed the ceremony before an altar flanked by baskets of mums, carnations and stephanotis.

John W. Dupaquier, organist, a cousin of the bride of Baton Rouge, La., played the traditional wedding marches and the Lord's prayer at the beginning of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white velvet A-line dress with a short train. The lace bodice, re-embroidered with pearls, featured long sleeves and high neckline. Her short veil of illusion fell from a lace cap re-embroidered with seed pearls and she carried a cascade of carnations, mums, and stephanotis.

The bride chose her sister, Mrs. Robert C. Stroh of Bay St. Louis as her attendant; her niece, Miss Caroline Belle Madden, served as flower girl. They wore long burgundy taffeta, Princess style dresses and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Charles Pace, Gulfport, served the groom as best man. A profusion of white flowers decorated the home of the bride's parents for the reception following the ceremony.

Photographed at Mississippi Power Company's Plant Jack Watson

Still climbing—your use of electricity and the cost of supplying it.

In August, Mississippi Power Company's customers used a record half-a-billion kilowatt-hours of electricity. Every summer customer usage reaches a new peak as more and more people seek the comfort of air conditioning in the hot, humid weather. Some summers, such as this past one, the heat wave is a little longer and warmer than usual, and the amount of electricity used is even greater.

Our construction program must stay ahead of customers' power needs; otherwise, there would be brownouts or blackouts and a slowing of the economic progress of southeast Mississippi. This year alone we will spend over $57 million for new electric service facilities — generating plants, substations, and lines. That's about $220,000 each working day, which is also a record.

Inflation, plus the necessity of providing the latest equipment for environmental protection, has added millions of dollars to the cost of construction. Operating expenses, including such varied items as interest on debt, fuel for generation, wages, and tax payments, have also risen sharply.

Our customers demand reliable electric service to make their lives a little healthier, safer, and more comfortable. While inflation has driven the price of that service somewhat higher than it was several years ago, electricity is still a bargain. But even bargains cost money.

'Along The Gulf' - - Highlights From The Book

(Special for the Sea Coast Echo)
"Along the Gulf", a book written during the turn of the century (1895) was first reproduced in November 1971 by Women of Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian. The first reprint sold out in a matter of weeks, and the second reprint has only 500 remaining copies. Written by a little-known author, Charles Lawrence Dyer, the book gives a detailed account of thriving cities and towns along the Mississippi Sound.

To begin with, readers are fascinated with the 295 copper-etched illustrations of people and places found in this 96-page book that is printed on soft antique paper. On the introductory page there is a map of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad from New Orleans to Mobile - and that is what the book is all about.

Byer bought a commuter ticket for a dollar and left the old Grunwald Hotel in New Orleans (built in 1863 at a cost of $450,000) getting off the train at every whistle stop from Chef Menteur all the way to The Battle House in Mobile. The Battle House rates ran from as much as $4 a day to as little as $2.50. This structure, erected in 1852 had 250 large airy sleeping rooms and claims the distinction of being the originator of the American Plan.

"Some people buy this book because they are interested in the beautiful old homes of family and friends", explained Mrs. Jo Pilet, member of the Women of Trinity. "While others are interested in the history of the entire Gulf Coast Community", Gulfport is the only town omitted from the volume. In those days there was no Gulfport. Residences in Waveland were said to be "well kept and tastefully laid out" and, continued the author "people seeking health can find no better place along the coast than this little town". The home of Mrs. Eliza J. Nicholson (editor-owner of the New Orleans Daily Picayune) is shown together with an account of how the sex barrier was broken and a woman was recognized for ability and business acumen!

Eighteen pages of this book are devoted to Bay St. Louis, formerly Shieldsboro when an inspector of light houses, General Shields, had a town named in his honor (1820). Bay St. Louis was described by the author as "the favorite of the old Creole inhabitants of New Orleans". Etchings include St. Joseph's Convent, St. Stanislaus Commercial College, street scenes and the famous store of Joseph F. Cazeneuve, dealer in dry goods and clothing. Snap shots of this area include everything from the Livery man to Regatta on the Bay.

In a fifteen page coverage the author described Pass Christian as "the favorite resort for Northern People during the winter months and a much frequented place by Southerners during the summer". Pictures include F. Bielenberg and his furniture store; the beautiful old Lynne Castle; Henry N. Bohn, clothing and shoe merchant; the famous Magnolia Hotel; the Honorable John H. Lang, "well known livery and real estate man"; E.J. Adam, editor of the Coast Beacon; the public school house as well as the Catholic Church and a wood cut of the Trinity Episcopal.

"Historians may differ with the author", said Mrs. Pilet in discussing the origin of the name of the town. The author said "A Swedish sailor named Christian" discovered the pass that leads from the Gulf of Mexico into the Mississippi Sound near Cat Island." Many historians believe the discoverer was French. However this small possible discrepancy could lead to interesting conversation and research, said Mrs. Pilet in one of her reviews.

Only one page was devoted to Long Beach - a page with three priceless pictures and the only page in the book that was marred, giving added distinction to the volume. Apparently the reader got to the Long Beach Section which is described as "A quiet summer residence resort for New Orleans people - a successful truck farms and vegetable headquarters", sat a glass of Sarsaparilla on the upper left side of the page - anyway there is a semi-circle of 12 lines of print that leave a few words to the reader's imagination because the print was washed off. It would be an interesting puzzle-game to have a group try to fill in the missing words, suggested Mrs. Pilet.

Biloxi, the great business town, received 28 pages of attention in ALONG THE GULF and antique collectors would enjoy the account of Biloxi Electric Light Company. Wouldn't it be fun to own one of those old coal oil lamps that were shelved when the new machine came in? Those interested in finance would like the report of the Bank of Biloxi (established in 1883) "an attractive two-story brick structure with a subscribed capital of $25,000."

Biloxi section of the book is well documented history, the city was incorporated in 1850, and the Irquois Commercial Club served as a sort of early Chamber-of-Commerce, Better Business Bureau, and social club, all rolled into one. "The object of this club was to look after the interest of Biloxi in every way possible".

"Buy it, read it - you'll like it", declares Mrs. Pilet who says the profits from the sales of the volume are used for the maintenance fund in Trinity Episcopal of Pass Christian. If you live in Bay St. Louis a copy may be purchased from Mrs. Lloyd Griffith or Mrs. Pilet. If you live in Waveland, Mrs. Gleim has them for sale in her gift shop. If you live in Pass Christian you may buy your volumes from Mrs. Frederick Kohl, or Mrs. John McCloskey. Books sell for $4 per copy - and should you wish them mailed, there is a handling charge of 25 cents."

Popularity Of Houseplants Is Growing

Suddenly houseplants are all the rage. Homemakers are using them more than ever for decorating. College students are learning that plants add life to sterile dorm rooms. And the ecology-minded, knowing that green plants emit small amounts of oxygen, are buying them because they feel every iota counts.

But few houseplant owners care for them properly. Over-watering is common, causing root rot. In fact, over-watering is the No. 1 houseplant killer. On the other hand, the soil shouldn't be allowed to dry out. This causes concentration of salts, leading to leafburn and wilting.

In addition, many people fertilize houseplants incorrectly. A very small amount of nutrients applied frequently is better than occasional large applications.

Owning beautiful houseplants becomes easy with the newly introduced Automatic Plant Caretaker.

This is a thick round pad of water-conducting foam which contains a year's supply of time-released nutrients. The Caretaker is placed in any container, water is added and the potted plant is set directly on the Caretaker. As the plant's root system draws up water through the nutrient-laden pad, it gets the proper amount of food.

The Caretaker is sold separately or with a Waterwell, a circular reservoir holding enough water to satisfy the average plant's requirements for up to five weeks. Ideal for

Trust is Custom made

Trust, like love, is highest among our human values. It is dearly prized because true trust is rare and must be genuinely earned.

Trust is the name of an important function at Gulf National Bank. Simply, we call it the Trust Department. In our Trust Department, we plan and manage estates; administer the terms of wills; handle the complexities of veterans' affairs; untangle the jumbled economic threads of domestic discord, and protect the property rights of our clients.

We do this for a lot of different people of varying ages and varying circumstances.

To us, every one of them is different. Every one of our clients is an individual human being whose needs differ with their circumstances and the changing general economy.

That is why we say that Trust is Custom-Made. Our services must be tailored to your needs.

In order to bring you the best service we can, our Trust Department relies heavily upon the advice and counsel of many other people in the community.

Most notably, we are in almost daily consultation with attorneys, accountants and brokers, whose experience and knowledge is vital to our work.

A good bank Trust Department, we feel, must be the vortex of a continuing cycle of legal, financial, and management expertise.

Should you need help with financial management or estate planning, ask your attorney or accountant about GNB.

We'll work hard to merit your Trust.

Park Managers Receive Law Enforcement Training

Dr. John M. King, executive director of the Mississippi Park Commission, today announced completion of training by all park managers, assistant managers, and park rangers in an intensive week-long course in the basic fundamentals of law enforcement at the Mississippi Law Enforcement Training Academy.

Park officers were housed at the state's law training facility during the week of instruction.

Dr. King in his announcement said, "This instruction, the first of its type ever received by park enforcement officers, was done in a cooperative venture with the state's law officers training academy. Special enforcement courses were taught to our park personnel, and we feel this training will serve as a valuable tool to our managers and rangers in the performance of their enforcement responsibilities." Some of the major subjects taught during the week-long school were: public relations; detection of drugs; arrest, self defense; proper use of firearms; and, the basic elements of first aid.

The State Parks Director said, "This training is but one of many continuing efforts by this park commission administration to professionalize on-the-job performance of park employees. Future training efforts of this nature are forthcoming."

Dr. King also stated that the Park Commission's new official uniform, recently adopted by the Commission's Executive Board, will further enhance the new look of the state recreation agency.

The striking new uniform is composed of matching hats and shirts with contrasting brown ties and trousers.

Farmers To Receive

Survey Questionnaires

Some Mississippi hog producers will receive questionnaires during the last week of November pertaining to their operations.

Ray B. Converse, Statistician in Charge of the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said the survey will be conducted to gather information about hog numbers, sows farrowed last six months and intentions to farrow the next six months. Approximately 8,000 Mississippi farmers will be asked to complete these mail questionnaires. Mr. Converse also stated that all states will conduct this survey. Since hog production accounts for nearly 4 percent of the state's cash farm income, it is important that the results be as accurate as possible. Because of this, Ray stressed the need for farmers who receive the questionnaires to fill them out and return them promptly.

Statisticians use the findings from this survey and data supplied by other farmers in enumerative survey questionnaires to form county, state and national estimates. All information on individual farms is kept confidential. A report on the survey will be published, December 22.

OPERATIONS MANAGER
Tom Atcheson of Jacksonville, Fla., has been named operations manager and chief pilot for Stennis Flying Service. Atcheson is a former pilot with the U.S. Air Force.

BROTHER EDUARDO, chairman of the audio-visual department at St. Stanislaus, demonstrates the new Sony Color Videocassette recording system, which St. Stanislaus recently purchased. With this system teachers can record programs in color from any channel in the area, to be replayed in the classroom at a more convenient time. The black and white camera can be used in conjunction with the recording system.
